Volume III—The 'Clothing' of Effective Policing: Cultural Competency, Spirituality and Ethics

continues my discussion about the humanity of policing. For this writing, I give attention to the spiritual, intellectual, and emotional dimensions of humankind. I use clothing metaphorically to describe more than something to cover body parts. Clothing refers to preparation of the heart, soul, and mind for tasks associated with policing.

CREATURE FEATURES

Booker T. Bear of Juneberry Square has planned some big surprises for Dahlya Dragonfly's birthday. He prepares an animal guessing game for Dahlya but when her guess is incorrect, they go on a magical adventure to find the creature in question. Young readers are invited to join these two friends and witness how Dahlya's birthday proves to hold more thrills than either adventurer imagined!

HAPPY ME!

Relax and Breathe

children's

My stories were developed from real life experience in desperation to help our daughter start breathing again, as a result of anxiety. Each story was designed for children to read to themselves, taking them through a journey to relax and breathe. Children absorb stress; they are not resilient to it. Symptoms appear in many forms that may result in changing the direction of a child's life.
